Thank you for your generosity, Father Gerardo

Today's readings are, on the one hand, about the faithfulness and mercy of God and, on the other, about sin, atonement, and human interactivity. Throughout history, God has consistently shown compassionate understanding as a model Father to his children. The key here is the familial relationship that endures highs and lows, rights and wrongs. The biblical writings consistently characterize this relationship as one of covenant, a dynamic commitment of promises and obligations that, if allowed to do so, can grow and develop over time into an eternal union. David shows his trust in God to thwart his opponents and to invoke justice. This trust brings about God's plan for David and all God's people. Jesus illustrates such trust in God as he summons us to "do to others as you would have them do to you" (Lk 6:31) despite what they may actually do. Jesus is not calling us to be doormats trodden upon by all who might take advantage. By contrast, if we find our center and fundamental value in God and our creation in God's image and likeness, such pain can be properly situated. Our true selves will not be altered or hurt by it. We can make decisions, holding ourselves and others accountable and doing the right thing, all while remaining in right relationship with God through Christ and refusing vengeance or petty grievance. Paul reflects theologically on this call to covenant relationship and just action. He articulates God's plan as it has been from the beginning. Humankind is composed of both nature and spirit. Paul challenges us to live the natural into the spiritual, to rise above the fray and be who God truly calls us to be.

Fasting and Lent

If you struggle with what to give up for lent; and always manage to do the same thing every year. You are missing the mark. Lent is about learning to lean into the suffering for the greater love of all. Ask yourself what pulls me away from loving God, myself, and others? What can help me work on being more present this Lenten season? Perhaps, you don't need to fast from anything this year, but to add more. Such as, spending more time with your family rather than browsing your social media pages. Whatever it may be, spend a little more time this Lent giving a second thought to your fasting.

2025 Annual Catholic Appeal

It's not too late to make a donation!

Your participation in our Annual Catholic Appeal accomplishes something very simple yet very powerful: It touches people's hearts with God's love through your gift and deepens our collective faith. By contributing to the Advancing Our Mission campaign, you are helping our brothers and sisters to truly know and love Jesus Christ, his grace, and his mercy.

This year our parish is expected to contribute $9,416.00 to the 2025 Annual

Catholic Appeal. Any amount we receive over our target will be returned to our parish for our use. Your participation, regardless of the amount, makes a difference. Your generosity brings hope and joy to all those who benefit from your gift. Be assured of my gratitude for your support and of my continuing prayers for you and your loved ones.

Envelopes are available for this collection; you can also donate online.

Online Giving: Just visit sdatholic.org/giving select "Annual Catholic Appeal" then search for our church. We will receive the credit.

Sincerely yours in Christ, Fr. Gerardo
