With startling imagery, the prophet Zechariah predicts the arrival of Israel's new king on a donkey and then describes him banishing horses and chariots from Jerusalem. These symbols make sense when one remembers that the primary use of horses in the ancient world was for warfare. Horses pulled chariots or carried mounted cavalry. Farmers, by contrast, kept donkeys. These would have been the animals most families would have used for labor and transportation. In modern language, Zechariah means that Israel will recognize God's chosen kind when he arrives not in a tank but a pickup truck.

Zechariah's words probably did not surprise those Israelites who understood their traditions. Texts like this Sunday's responsorial psalm seek God's glory in the fullness of divine compassion and fidelity. Israel's God forces no one to their knees, but "lifts up all who are falling / and raises up all who are bowed down."

Jesus knew these traditions. His kingship did not conform to the model of Israel's Roman conquerors, who reinforced their authority with displays of power and wealth. Instead, Jesus gave witness to his anointing through a commitment to God's Word and an evenhanded mercy. Many fellow Jews resonated strongly with his mission, but poorer people received his message with special enthusiasm. They recognized in him the king that the prophet Zechariah had foretold and found in his message a compassion that gave rest to their souls.

Christ calls all disciples to live with similar simplicity and mercy. This is what Paul means when he counsels Christians to live by the Spirit. Like the God of the psalms and prophets, Jesus was loving and just. Just so, those who bear Christ's spirit must make it their mission to lighten humanity's burdens and raise up those who are bowed down.

Prayer for Good Health

Sacred Heart of Jesus, in this month dedicated to Your boundless love, I place my body, mind, and spirit in Your care. Pour Your healing grace upon me and all who are ill, restoring strength where there is weakness, peace where there is anxiety, and hope where there is weariness. Through the intercession of Our Lady, Health of the Sick, and the saints who walked in faith before us, grant us the gift of good health, so that we may serve You with joy and gratitude. Sacred Heart of Jesus, I trust in You. Amen

Peter's Pence Collection 2026 Support the Works of the Holy Father

Give generously to this collection as a sign of hope to those who suffer around the globe. You will help build up the Church so that it can provide hope and minister to all for generations to come.

Pray for the Holy Father, for those he serves in compassion, and for the ongoing activities of the Holy See, all of which benefit from the Peter's Pence Collection.

Envelopes are available on the church tables. They can be returned at any mass collection.
