Join us to Pray the Rosary 30 minutes before each mass!

God's universal care for humanity has always been easy to forget, especially when it serves someone's interest to separate those who merit God's love from those who do not. In Jesus' day, Israel's Roman overlords exploited cultural differences among their subjects in order to divide and rule. Likewise, Israel's religious leaders carefully determined who was a true Israelite and who was not. At an earlier time in history, this was perhaps necessary to keep Israel from dying out, but by Jesus' day, such determinations generated discord and hostility.

God's will is that Israel teach all humanity how to worship, but human social structures have obscured that will. The desperate mother recognizes none of this finding in Jesus one last hope for her daughter. Even when those human divisions became clear to her, she rejected them. All she had left was faith, and s she clung to it, her mind opened to the truth: God sent Jesus to save all humanity, her daughter included.

The faith of early Christians brought them to the same truth. As Paul states in this Sunday's second reading, God's mercy is a gift to all. As today's Gospel demonstrates, it was difficult for the first disciples to learn that lesson. In every age, Christ's followers advance his mission when they work to reveal God's mercy to those desperate for it. Even more importantly, they must be ready to recognize God's mercy already at work in people and places they had not expected.

Missionary Cooperation Plan 2026

Special Collection on August 22 & 23

One of the diocesan efforts to promote mission awareness and spiritual union with missionary efforts throughout the world is the Diocesan Missionary Cooperation Plan (MCP). Because of the many needs for new and developing churches in underdeveloped countries, the need for our support is as urgent today as ever.

We will welcome a guest speaker at every Mass on August 22nd and 23rd to share more about this important missionary effort.

Special yellow envelopes will be available on the church tables and in the pews that weekend for those who would like to make a donation.
Thank you for your generosity and continued support.
