God forgives, and so must we. This is the message of this Sunday's reading. Sometimes forgiveness is easy. Friends and family know how to brush off each other's small transgressions. As the Book of Proverbs states, "Love covers all offenses" (10:12), an insight that was repeated in the New Testament. Sometimes forgiveness is difficult. Some people enjoy hurting others. Many more sin against each other out of ego or fear, inflicting thoughtless damage out of insecurity. Still others live with destructive tendencies such as addictions, mental illness, or trauma. Although these are out of their control, such inclinations make relationships difficult. Finding ways to forgive in circumstances like these can feel like a hopeless task.

Jesus did not agree. "Not seven times, but seventy-seven times," said Jesus, responding. The Old Testament already had a long tradition of teaching forgiveness. God forgave Israel again and again for its transgressions against the covenant, and prophets and teachers reminded individual Israelites to do the same. As this Sunday's first reading proclaims, God's tireless compassion should be the pattern for ours.

"Moved with compassion, the master of that servant let him go and forgave him the loan." In this parable, forgiveness means starting over from zero. Whatever happened in the past is gone, and a new relationship takes its place. God finds new reasons for compassion every time we request forgiveness. This is an example of the freedom Christ calls us to follow. Forgiveness costs God nothing but instead deepens opportunities for divine love. Just so, Christ calls his followers to the same freedom. No one can take anything from us that God cannot replace tenfold. This realization can inspire our sense of compassion and free us to forgive, no matter the amount of mercy required.

A Prayer For 9/11:

God of Peace and Mercy,
on this anniversary for September 11,
we lift up the souls who perished on that day.
Welcome them with loving arms into Your kingdom. Comfort their families and friends.
Help us to mourn alongside them with a constant compassion that can only be rooted in You.
May we look to the first responders that day to inspire us to live bravely and courageously, and to selflessly protect others in need.
May we look to those who opened up their homes
to the stranded and displaced that day
to stir us to be more hospitable.
Having seen the face of evil and darkness,
may we be steadfast and faithful in pursuing You,
our perpetual Light.
In Jesus's name we pray.
Amen.
